TEUTONS AGAIN ARE MAKING PROGRESS: RUSSIANS RETREAT

VIENNA REPORTS SUCCESSES IN SOUTHEAST WHICH HAVE VIRTUALLY DRIVEN CZAR'S FORCES OUT OF GALICIA, LEAVING THEM NARROW STRIP.

GERMANS VICTORS IN WEST

French Refer to Fighting in Trenches as Being Featured by Artillery Duels, But Berlin Says Advance Has Been Made and Ground Recovered.

GRODNO EVACUATED.

Petrograd, Sept. 2, via London, Sept. 3, 2:52 a. m.—An official communication made public tonight by the Russian far office announces the evacuation by the Russians of the fortress of Grodno and the retirement of the troops to the right bank of the Niemen river.

London, Sept. 2.—Except in the region of Riga, where the Russians are presenting a solid front to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the Austro-German offensive is again making headway and, as they have been doing for months, the Russian troops have resumed their withdrawal movement. The western forts of Grodno were evacuated after two of them were destroyed by the heavy guns and stormed by the German infantry and it is considered extremely likely that the whole fortress has already been left to its fate.

In the southeast Vienna also reports a series of successes which have virtually driven the Russians out of Galicia; they now hold only a very narrow strip between the Sereth river and Bessarabia. Across the border in the latter province the Austrians state the Russians set fire to a number of villages, which might indicate further retreat. Thus the hopes raised in the allied countries by recent successes, that Russia at least was making a stand, have been dissipated.

Everywhere the Austro-Germans claim to be advancing, but they have not captured of late any great number of men or guns. The Russian guns have been kept well behind the infantry and are quickly moved back when the rear guards are unable longer to hold off the invaders. There is some talk of a German advance on Kiev, but the distance to that city is considerable and the country over which it would have to be made is difficult for the movement of troops.

On the western front the Germans claim to have regained trenches which they lost in the middle of August in the Vosges, while the French simply refer to heavy artillery engagements which have been the feature of the last nine days, with no suggestion of what they foreshadow.

Increased activity at the Dardanelles is shown in all the official reports. Besides their successes in capturing an important position east of Suvla Bay, which dominates one of the Turkish lines of communication, the British have sunk four Turkish transports in the Straits; while the fire of the ships across Gallipoli peninsula has made the movement of Turkish troops by land or sea more difficult.

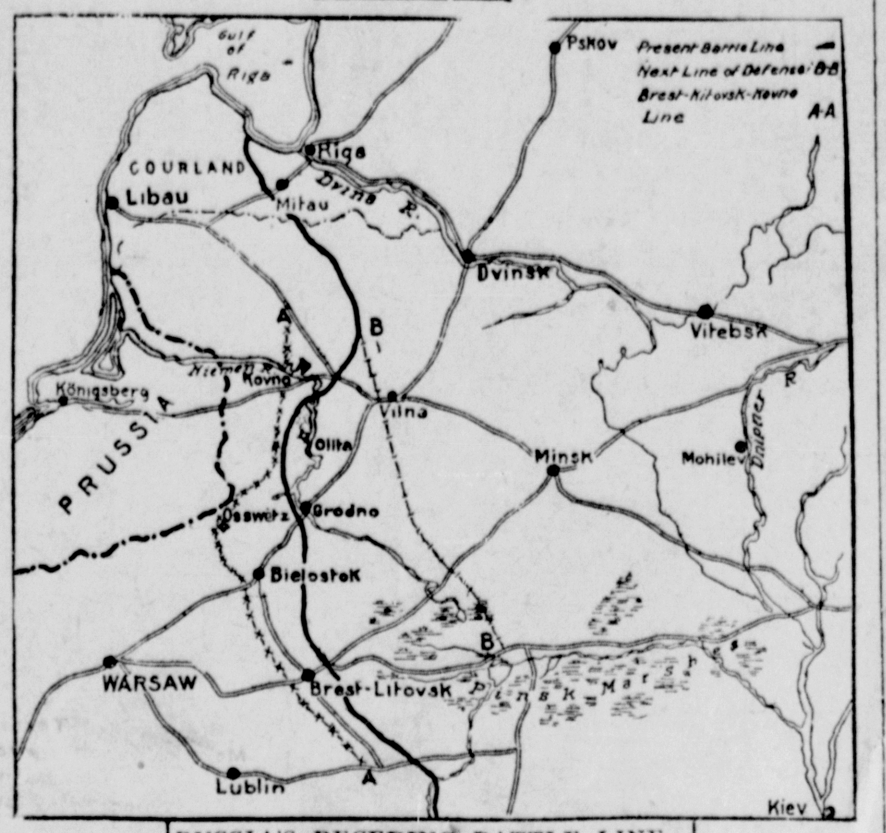
According to the Turks, mine sweepers have been busy at the entrance of the Straits, which suggests that an attack is contemplated by the allies from another direction.

A dispatch from Rome says that the Austrians have evacuated Rovereto, which recent Italian advances had threatened to cut off. An official report from the same capital claims a number of the successes for the artillery and infantry on different fronts.

Cotton Mill Employes Return to Work.

Post, Texas, Sept. 2.—Operatives of the Postex Cotton Mills, who went on a strike here yesterday because of a wage disagreement, returned to work today when the management announced there would be no reduction in the wage scale. The management insisted there had been no intention of reducing wages.

CZAR'S POWERFUL DEFENSIVE CRUMPLED BY GERMAN ADVANCE



RUSSIA'S RECEDING BATTLE LINE.

The fall of the great fortress of Brest Litovsk marked practically the last step in the abandonment of the powerful defensive line which Russia had counted on to stem the German advance. This line, carefully fortified, has been outflanked on the south, in the fall of Kovno, pierced in the north and has now become utterly untenable. The line A—A shows the location of forts and defenses on which the Russians had depended; the heavy, black line, indicating the present positions, shows how far these have been lost. The last line, B—B, is the next on which the Russians might take a stand. It is possible, however, that no great effort will be made to check the Teutonic advance till the line from Minsk to Dvinsk (or Dunaburg) has been reached.

TWO MORE BODIES FROM THE SUBMARINE F-4 ARE IDENTIFIED

Honolulu, Sept. 2.—Two of the bodies taken out yesterday from the U. S. submarine F-4 were identified today as those of Charles H. Wells of Norfolk, Va., machinist's mate, and Frank N. Herzog of Salt Lake City, Utah, electrician. Wells was identified by a notebook which naval officers in charge of the work intimated contained information that would solve the mystery of the submarine's disappearance in the Honolulu bay March 25 with twenty-two men on board.

The identification of Herzog was made through records of dental work done for him.

The only other body identified so far is that of George T. Ashcroft, gunner's mate, of Los Angeles, found Tuesday in the battery room of the vessel.

Removes Confederate Flags from Postoffice

Ada, Okla., Sept. 2.—Bloodshed was narrowly averted and the town thrown into a white heat of excitement today when Postmaster M. W. Ligon removed from the postoffice building several Confederate flags which had been placed there by the persons who decorated the city in honor of the state encampment of Confederate veterans now in progress here.

Angry words were passed and threats were made, but the postmaster, a Wilson appointee, stood pat, and declared that none but the American flag could fly from the postoffice.

Funeral of Orozco to Be Held Today

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2.—After preparations had been completed to hold the funeral of Gen. Pascual Orozco at the Mexican Methodist Episcopal church late today the Orozco family cancelled the plans and announced the funeral would be held early tomorrow at the undertaking establishment where the body has been viewed by many thousands of Mexicans. The body was removed to the Orozco home late today. Mrs. Orozco announced she had declined to avail herself of Gen. Villa's permission to inter the body in Mexican soil and that the burial would be in a local cemetery.

NO INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY IN PROBE OF FRANK HANGING

Maretta, Ga., Sept. 2.—The Cobb county grand jury investigating the lynching of Leo M. Frank near Marietta reported today that:

"We have found several clues but have been unable to find any one who could identify any party. We have done our best under our oath and we regret [illegible] we have been unable to [illegible]ugh evidence to indict anyone for this crime."

After it is stated that the jury had the active co-operation of Governor Nat E. Harris, the state attorney general, Solicitor Herbert B. Clay and other officials of Cobb county, the report says:

"We have been unable to connect anybody with the perpetration of this offense or to identify any one who was connected with it, although we have investigated the information furnished us by officers and other parties and have followed up letters signed and unsigned and to this end we have subpoenaed and examined many witnesses in an effort to disclose the perpetrators of this crime, but none of these witnesses could identify any of the parties.

"We find from investigation that the officers of the law and the citizens of our town and county knew nothing of this crime until they heard of the body being found near Frey's gin in this county."

Upwards of 35 witnesses were examined yesterday and today.

Interurban Strikes Wagon; One Killed and Two Injured

Hillsboro, Sept. 2.—Esdral Dillon, 11-year-old son of J. A. Dillon, was instantly killed and Mr. Dillon and his 11-year-old nephew, Hubert Owens, were badly injured eight miles north of here when the 5 o'clock north bound interurban crashed into a hay wagon on which they were riding.

The interurban struck with such force that the horses were broken from the wagon, the horses running away uninjured, while pieces of the wagon were strewn all along the track. The boy killed was so mutilated that his features were scarcely recognizable. Both of Dillon's legs were broken, his head mashed in and his neck cut. Chances are against his recovery. The other boy escaped with a broken arm and several fractured ribs.

The victims of the accident were taken into Milford, where the body of the dead boy was left until tomorrow, when it will be brought to Hillsboro for burial. Mr. Dillon and his nephew were brought into Hillsboro tonight.

Severe Punishment for Guardsman Who Holds Up a Negro

Newport, Ark., Sept. 2.—Private Robert Watson of the Jonesboro company of the Arkansas militia, which was sent here to aid in maintaining order during the recent flood, was for three hours this morning kept handcuffed and chained to a telephone pole on the main street of the city. It was charged that while on patrol duty last night Watson held up and robbed a negro. A courtmartial was held. Watson was found guilty and the company commander, Lieut. J. A. Brookens, sentenced him to be publicly humiliated. Lieut. Brookens issued a statement declaring that the militiamen had been treated so hospitably by the people of Newport that he believed the severity of Watson's punishment justified.

SUMMARY OF WAR

Although on all the battle fronts sanguinary engagements are in progress, peace talk is in the air.

Cardinal Gibbons has conveyed to President Wilson a message from Pope Benedict regarding peace—a suggestion that the time is now ripe for proposing the opening between the belligerents of discussions having as their purpose the cessation of hostilities.

While neither the cardinal nor the president has made known the details of the conference at the white house or disclosed the text of the message from the pontiff, the cardinal admitted that peace was discussed and that he had told the president that the United States had been placed in a very advantageous position to be of service in bringing an end to the conflict, owing to the apparent settlement of the submarine issue between the United States and Germany, which had greatly aided the cause of peace.

Germany is desirous of having the claims for compensation arising out of the sinking of the Lusitania and Arabic submitted to The Hague for adjudication. The instructions issued to Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, according to a dispatch from Berlin, authorize him to make this offer to the American government, while at the same time immunity from attack without warning to passenger steamers is provided for.

Official circles in Berlin are reported to be optimistic with reference to the successful outcome of the negotiations between Germany and the United States respecting the German submarine policy.

The Germans and Austrians, according to Berlin and Vienna are continuing their progress agaist the Russians on the eastern line from Northwestern Russia through Eastern Galicia. On the northern sections of this line, except in the region of Riga, the Russians seemingly are falling back toward the new and less extended front which Grand Duke Nicholas has assigned to them for a possible stand. Just where this line is has not been made known.

As for days past artillery engagements and fighting by means of bombs and petards are are in progress on the western front, and on the Austro-Italian front although there has been on the latter front some infantry engagements at isolated points.

On the Gallipoli peninsula hard fighting is going on between the Turks and the allies, with both sides claiming victories. In the Dardanelles, where there have been no operations for some time, allied mine sweepers have been at work trying to clear the straits of Turkish mines, but according to Constantinople they were driven off by Turkish guns.

CARDINAL GIBBONS IN CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT WILSON

CHURCH OFFICIAL BRINGS MESSAGE IN FORM OF CABLEGRAM FROM POPE TO HEAD OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT PERSONALLY.

JOINT ACTION MAY BE TAKEN

Unofficial Talk is to Effect That Neutral Nations May Attempt to Bring About Peace in Europe—Cardinal Also Discusses the Mexican Situation.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Gibbons came to Washington today with a message of hope for peace in Europe to President Wilson from Pope Benedict.

It was a cablegram praising the president's attitude and indicating a belief that the United States might be in a position to help in bringing the European war to an end.

After reading the message the cardinal remained for half an hour with the president discussing the possibility of peace and the world situation generally. He emerged smiling and walked over to the state department for a conference with Secretary Lansing. Later he announced he had talked peace with the president and told him of his gratification over the apparent success of the negotiations with Germany over submarine warfare. He spoke cheerfully of the situation, saying the prospects for peace seemed to be brightening.

The text of the pope's message was not made public, nor was there any formal comment on it from the white house. Unofficially, however, it was said that the president was much pleased with the message and with the interview. It was understood that the pope made no definite suggestion as to a peace movement and that his message was purely a personal one to President Wilson and not addressed to the heads of other neutral governments.

The visit of the cardinal created the deepest interest in official and diplomatic circles.

Joint action for peace among the heads of several neutral nations and the pope was suggested as a possible outcome of today's developments, but this idea received no official confirmation. Up to the present the United States has acted entirely alone in the single offer it has made to be of service in bringing about peace.

Diplomats representing the belligerent nations reserved comment on the conference until more definite information has been given out. It was pointed out that many political questions, including the maintenance of the neutrality of the Balkans and the establishment of a separate Polish kingdom, would be involved in the discussion of peace at this time.

The president's offer of the services of the United States to the belligerents still stands open. News dispatches from abroad recently discussing the possibility of peace have been given the president's earnest attention and American diplomats in Europe have standing directions to communicate anything received on the subject to the president. In Mr. Wilson's private study in the white house, filed away by himself, is a mass of data on the question, including reports made to him by Col. E. M. House, who spent several months abroad studying the situation.

The Mexican situation was touched upon incidentally by Cardinal Gibbons, both at the white house and at the state department, with an expression of his hopes for an early restoration of order and government in that country.

ARABIC MATTER NOT DISCUSSED IN BERLIN

GERMAN GOVERNMENT TREATS NEGOTIATIONS WITH U. S. AS CONFIDENTIAL.

Von Bernstorff Has Wide Authority to Deal With the Situation.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 2, 9:50 p. m.—Official circles in Berlin treat the negotiations now in progress with the United States on the submarine problem as highly confidential and this makes it most difficult to obtain any authoritative information or to transmit the views held in various quarters. The highest officials, nevertheless, are not adverse to admitting that they regard the situation with optimism—an optimism based on a knowledge of the instructions which have been issued and the developments here which probably will facilitate the task of negotiations.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, it is understood is in possession of fairly wide reaching authority to negotiate for a settlement of the submarine question and it is believed that the proposals he is authorized to make will strike at the heart of the problem as affecting the United States. They provide for immunity from attack without warning for passenger steamers which are to be destroyed only after being halted and full opportunity has been given the passengers and crews to embark from the liners in safety.

Submarine commanders will be advised of the expected arrival of liners on regular schedules. How far beyond this provision for the safety of the larger ships, Count von Bernstorff's instructions cannot be learned.

Newspaper reports reaching here to the effect that the solution of the submarine problem is coupled with a settlement of the negotiations with Great Britain are declared in initiated circles to be incorrect. It is true that Count von Bernstorff has been instructed to say that the settlement of the old blockade problem would enable Germany to drop the whole submarine warfare against commerce, but this suggestion is quite apart from the proposals indicated above which are independent and unconditional.

One high government official in commenting on the situation dilated on the danger for the United States itself in pressing its demands too far. He said "there is no telling when the United States itself may want to use its submarines in a life and death struggle. It may perhaps be sorry if it has bound its hands too tightly."

The press continues to display restraint so as to avoid embarrassing the government in the delicate negotiations. No paper follows the lead of the National Zeitung in praising President Wilson, but there is an entire absence of hostile or abusive comment or criticism of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy.

Would Submit to The Hague.

Berlin, Sept. 2, via London, Sept. 3, 12:30 a. m.—Germany, according to Count Bernstorff's instructions, offers to submit the claims for compensation arising out of the Lusitania and Arabic cases to The Hague for adjudication.

Farmer and Engine Tender Brutally Murdered After Being Taken Prisoners—One Man Let Go Because Raiders Thought He Was a German—Bullets Riddle Bodies in Lake Bed.

ONE OUTLAW KILLED IN RUNNING FIGHT

Trestle of St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railway Is Burned—Chase Is Being Pressed Vigorously to Prevent Murderers Getting Back Across Border—Believed Pizano Heads Gang.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 2.—Mexican bandits, after more than two weeks' comparative quiet along the frontier, today burst into action anew, killing two American workmen, burning considerable property, stealing livestock and suffering the loss of one of their own number in a running fight with United States troops eleven miles north of this city.

The Americans killed were Earl Donaldson, a farmer, who came to this country two weeks ago from Fayette, Mo., and J. H. Smith, an engine tender, who, with Stanley Dodds, a contractor, were doing concrete work at an irrigation canal pumping plant. After being made prisoners, the bullet-riddled bodies of Donaldson and Smith were found late today in a dried lake bed near the scene of their capture. Dodd's life was spared because the band leaders were led to believe he was a German. Later he escaped while the band was fighting the American troops.

Starting last night shortly after midnight by burning a small trestle on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad between Brownsville and Harlingen, the bandits, reported to be emboldened by liquor, spent a busy day at outlawry before they were engaged by half a company of United States infantry which chased the gang in automobile trucks.

Following the burning of the trestle, the bandits appeared at a ranch house five miles east of Bareda, where they found Louis Laulom, a surveyor, and a Mexican from this city. They were told that they were safe in that they were not Americans. But the two fled while the bandits withdrew for a conference with the leader and made their way to Brownsville.

The next report of the gang's operation came from the irrigation pumping plant project where the three Americans were kidnaped. The uncompleted building at the site of the pumping station is reported to have been burned, together with an automobile, probably the property of the contractor, Dodds. There they took the trio after burning the property, and continued their march until overtaken by the detachment of United States infantry. At what time and under what circumstances Donaldson and Smith were shot is not known.

That Donaldson's body was dragged was indicated by the condition of his ankles, which are badly bruised and apparently rope-burned. His arms also were badly lacerated, showing he must have put up a fight.

The Mexican killed said just before dying that he wanted to be buried in Matamoros. His body was dragged off the road and left. He had a Mauser rifle, a pistol and 300 rounds of ammunition.

When attacked by the American troops the band is said to have begun a running fight, culminating in a stand by six of the number in an irrigation canal, down which ten escaped. In this fighting one Mexican was killed and the other five escaped.

The chase of the Mexicans is being pressed with all vigor lest they reach the Mexican border and cross the river to safety. The most vigilant search of all possible refugees is being made tonight.

Military authorities believe that Aniceto Pizano, a Mexican who took part in the Los Tulitos fight last month and who escaped into Mexico, was the leader of the band. After his flight to Mexico, Pizano's name was appended to a circular which called Mexicans to arms against Americans.

An aeroplane reconnoiter by Lieutenants Jos. C. Morrow and J. Q. Jones this afternoon brought back little news of bandit operations, the aviators having seen only two suspicious characters during the flight. They report the cavalry and infantry detachments are advantageously placed along the border.

Lieutenant Falkner, who commanded the detachment, said the automobile truck bearing the men was traveling along the old Alice stage coach road when the Mexicans were seen. Six of the band put up a fight, using the irrigation canal as a trench. Ten made a quick escape down the canal, and the remaining five finally escaped, leaving their dead comrade.

A party of Americans traveling from Brownsville to San Benito in an automobile, and who passed the trestle a short while before it was set on fire, reported they had been fired upon by a band of between 25 and 30 Mexicans.

The trestle was fired shortly after the regular midnight passenger train had passed, indicating, officers believe, that the band had no desire to endanger the train or its passengers. It is believed this band was composed of Mexicans living on the Texas side of the Rio Grande, as that stream is at flood stage and the currents very swift, making it almost impossible to swim horses across.

It was learned today the troopers found a quantity of dynamite in a suit case, several dirks, one rifle and two revolvers at the trestle, indicating, it is believed, that the Mexicans intended to blow up the bridge, but were frightened away.

Funston Makes Report.

Washington, Sept. 2.—General Funston forwarded to the war department reports from commanders at Brownsville and Harlingen on the firing last night and yesterday on an automobile party and at an army aeroplane.

The report from Brownsville said:

"Twelve feet trestle burned by bandits at 1 o'clock this morning. Same time and place two automobile loads civilians fired on; no hurt reported. Trains expected to run hour or two late, but run. Troops on scene from here in about hour and half. Indirect reports say troops met no resistance. Aeroplane flight here yesterday twice called out rifle fire, fifteen shots each time from Mexican side river."

The Harlingen message said:

"Reported two automobiles fired on about midnight last night near Bareda; one hit five times. Two railroad bridges south of San Benito on fire. Sent Lieut. Mallery, ten men, two-thirty in automobiles and Bristol with all available men, troop A, from river. No telephone communication between here and Brownsville. Bareda is first station south of San Benito."

Foreign Exchange Makes a Spectacular Recovery

New York, Sept. 2.—Recovery of foreign money values in this market was as spectacular and swift today as its recent decline. Sterling gained 8¼c from last night's quotation, touching $4.62½ at the close; francs gained 14 cents on the day's transactions, going to 5.45. Reichmarks inactive, gained a quarter of a point, reaching 80¾.

Today's sudden and unprecedented rally clarified the situation for the time being and led to the belief that rates nearly approaching normal would be established.

From authoritative sources it was learned that a third big consignment of British gold and American securities is on the way here by way of Halifax.

Heavy foreign selling of securities was a factor in the restoration of rates today as well as general covering of short contract Cables from abroad told of the forcing out of American stocks and bonds in the hands of British holders by the attractive premiums offered at prevailing exchange rates.

With the arrival here of the British and French financiers, believed to be only a few days off, a general readjustment of the entire situation appeared to be in sight tonight and bankers here were optimistic in their statements that the crisis had passed.

Will Correct Situation.

London, Sept. 2, 7:15 p. m.—Plans for correcting the abnormal exchange situation and putting on a stable basis the entire machinery of settling trade balances between American and Europe will be clarified within the next few days on the arrival in New York of the French and British commercial commissioners.

Both commissioners have received their instructions and are now on their way. It is known that the commissions are in a way to correct some apprehensions which are believed to exist in the United States concerning French, British and Russian dependence on America. One of the best informed authorities said today:

"The idea seems to prevail in New York that we are on our knees and begging America to come to our assistance. The situation is exactly the reverse. America wants to sell Europe its goods and if Americans hope to continue these sales they must find a means of giving the usual credits and stabilizing exchange."

The British commissioners are fully conversant with the attitude of the government which does not regard the present situation as alarming. On the contrary, the government view is decidedly hopeful and serene as the recent success in floating the gigantic war loan has given it confidence that the largest financial problems can be readily surmounted.

The commission will be in a position to point out that two distinct classes of credits are being incurred in America. The first results from purchases of supplies and munitions by the allied governments; the second from ordinary purchases and sales between private traders.

NATIONAL DEFENSE URGED BY WILSON

LETTERS TO SECRETARIES GARRISON AND DANIELS MADE PUBLIC.

Both Secretaries Are Hard at Work Formulating Plans to Submit to Congress.

Washington, Sept. 2.—President Wilson tonight made public letters he wrote to Secretaries Garrison and Daniels last month asking them to formulate for him definite programs for strengthening the national defenses in order that he might make recommendations to congress in his next annual message.

The president told the secretaries he wanted them to confer with best informed experts of their departments and submit plans formulated in very definite terms. Whether the entire program could be proposed to congress immediately, he said, would have to be determined after further study.

In accordance with this request, Secretaries Garrison and Daniels have been at work on their reports for more than a month and now have them practically completed. They soon will be submitted to the president; then he will discuss them with the chairman of the military and naval affairs committees of congress.

The letter to Secretary Daniels follows:

"I have been giving, as I am sure you have also, a great deal of thoughe you have also, a great deal of thought naval program to be proposed to the congress at its next session, and I would like to discuss the whole subject with you at the earliest possible date.

"But first we must have professional advice. I would be very much obliged if you would get the best minds in the department to work on the subject; I mean the men who have been most directly in contact with actual modern conditions, who have most thoroughly comprehended the altered conditions of naval warfare and who best comprehend what the navy must be in the future in order to stand upon an equality with the more efficient and the most practically serviceable; I want their advice, a program by them formulated in the most definite terms. Whether we can reasonably propose the whole of it to the congress immediately or not, we can determine when we have studied it. The important thing now is to know fully what we need. Congress will certainly welcome such advice and follow to the limit of its opportunity.

"It should be a program planned for a consistent and progressive development of this great defensive arm of the nation and should be of such a kind as to commend itself to every patriotic and practical man."

In the letter to Secretary Garrison the president wrote:

"I have been giving scarcely less thought than you yourself have to the question of adequate preparation for national defense and I am anxious, as you know, to incorporate in my next message to congress a program regarding the development and equipment of the army and a proper training of our citizens to arms, which while in every way consistent with our traditions and our national policy, will be of such a character as to commend itself to every patriotic and practical mind.

"I know that you have been much in conference with your professional associates in the department and that you have yourself come to some very definite conclusions on these exceedingly important matters. I would be very much obliged if you would be kind enough to prepare for me a program with estimates of what you and the best informed soldiers in your counsel think the country ought to undertake to do. I should like to discuss this program with you at as early a time as it can be made ready."

The following telegram from John Hays Hammond, president of the National League of Republican clubs, was made public tonight by Secretary Garrison:

"Regardless of politics, the people are behind you in the important work you are so ably doing for our national defense. Any suspicion as to your integrity of purpose is entertained only by shallow minds and by contemptible politicians whose wish is 'father to the thought.' It will prove to be political suicide to so-called leaders of the republican party if they do not cordially co-operate with the administration in the matter of national defense."

Plan Navy Reserve.

Washington, Sept. 2.—A plan for the building up of an adequate naval reserve in addition to the existing state militia and the regular reserve created by the last congress, was made public today by Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department. It contemplates the mobilization of yachtsmen and powerboat owners and their craft with navy reserve ships in a training squadron, following the idea of the successful army camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

The statement says plans have been under consideration for some time for definite organization of the elements outside of the regular reserve and upon which the navy should be able to draw in emergencies. Employment of former navy officers in time of war and filling vacancies on the fighting ships with former enlisted men already has been provided for by legislation under which in the last two months 110 men have entered the reserve. According to the statement, the law has had the effect of increasing enlistments in the navy.

Under the present law the coast guard service automatically passes under control of the navy in time of war. It is proposed that the lighthouse and coast guard survey service be added to this list and that state nautical training schools, harbor police or similar organizations be prepared for national service when needed. As to volunteer civilians, the statement says:

"It is believed that the reserve of personnel should total 50,000 officers and men. What is particularly desired is not merely numbers, but individuals who will be capable of doing the highly specialized service which exists in modern navies. For instance, in war time the navy would need the services of possibly 1000 radio operators; it would require local pilots for inside waters, helms-men, gunners, gasoline motor experts, signal men, etc., besides, of course, first class seamen. The department has had many letters asking whether an opportunity could be given to individuals to take courses of training in the specialties and if the general plan is approved. It is hoped that by next summer courses of instruction can be started using reserve or other available ships and giving three or four weeks of training, so that they could become of some definite use if called upon.

"Any amateur radio operator, any yachtsman or motor boat enthusiast, in fact, any citizen with intelligence and application could learn to fit into some place where he might be needed.

"Possibly some form of certificate could be given at the close of instruction, showing exactly what services the individual is capable of performing, the holder to be under no further obligation than to keep the navy department at stated periods informed of his address.

"It is obvious that the navy would need a great number of auxiliaries, patrol bots, etc. Steps already have been taken to organize the merchant shippin, but much remains to be done. Modern naval operations have shown the great need of a larger number of small and fast yachts and motor boats of a type as fast and seaworthy as possible. The department already has endeavored to co-operate with the power squadrons and it will be possible, in connection with the training of volunteer civilians to list all suitable vessels and to train their crews in the duties that would be expected. This training would be given in conjunction with the use of naval vessels in the summer time and would be in charge of regular officers."

Acting Secretary Roosevelt expects to visit the second Plattsburg encampment at the end of the month to become familiar with its routine and requirements.

agent in New York, positively denies the report sent out from El Paso Villa sources yesterday of a split in the Carranza ranks. Mr. Pesquiera's message says:

"There is absolutely no truth in the assertion that Mr. Cabrera or I have split with the first chief. Our relations continue as always in co-operating for the welfare of the constitutionalist movement.

(Signed) "R. V. PESQUEIRA."

Harlingen is Troop Headquarters.

San Antonio, Sept. 2.—Gen. Frederick Funston has designated Harlingen as headquarters for the troops in the field in the lower Rio Grande valley and Col. Agustus P. Blocksom, Third cavalry, as commanding officer.

His command will include the Sixth cavalry, two squadrons of the Third regiment, one squadron of the Twelfth cavalry and the Fourth infantry and two battalions of the Twenty-sixth infantry, now at Fort Brown. At the latter place Col. R. L. Bullard will remain in command.

Today pack train No. 13 left for Harlingen under command of Pack Master Ralph R. Richmond for an indefinite tour of duty with the command of Colonel Blocksom. This was the second pack train to leave Fort Sam Houston within a week for the Brownsville district, No. 8 having gone to Ringgold last Sunday. Governments Recognize Carranza.

San Antonio, Sept. 2.—Von Eckhardt, newly appointed special diplomatic and plenipotentiary agent for Germany, called upon General Gonzales yesterday, according to a special to the Light from Vera Cruz today. This is taken to be a tacit recognition of the constitutionalist government by Germany. Von Eckhardt arrived in Mexico City aboard a special train furnished him by Mr. Carranza. The diplomatic representative of Austria-Hungary has notified the constitutionalist government he will assume the same position as soon as his credentials arrive. The British consul, Hutchinson, now in Vera Cruz, has been authorized as special diplomatic agent to the constitutionalist government. Spain already has a special agent there. Public opinion here regards these appointments as indicative of the ultimate intent of the powers. The Carrancistas hold that the naming of these agents is clearly a recognition by the governments named.

Inflammatory Press Reports.

San Antonio, Sept. 2.—Government department of justice officials have made translated copies of inflammatory publications made in Mexican newspapers against the United States. These translations were made from Mexicans newspapers held up and refused the use of the United States mails by the postal officials in this city and will be forwarded to Washington.

Following is an excerpt from these Mexican newspapers, nearly all of which have some official recognition in Mexico:

El Constitutional of Monterey:

"To quell a revolution sweeping through the southern states President Wilson has seen fit to raise the wages of laborers from $1.50 a day to $4.50 a day, gold. This measure was taken on account of the growth of the Texas revolution."

Following appeared in several Mexican newspapers on the same date, indicating a campaign had been inaugurated:

"The alarm in the northern part of the United States as well as in the American senate which has been caused by the series of events developing in Texas and other southern states is indescribable. News from New York and Washington state that the American refugees have arrived, fleeing from the revolution in the south, and are possessed of great fear, which also exists among inhabitants of the south."

Importers Will Not Benefit by the Low Rate Exchange

New York, Sept. 2.—The man who buys his goods over the counter will not reap a cent of the big profits accruing to importers because of the prevailing depression in foreign moneys and foreign exchange rates, it was said here today, and in many instances profits that would otherwise have accrued to the importers themselves have been greatly reduced by corresponding advances in price on the other side of the Atlantic.

Because of the low exchange rates it has been possible for importers here to pay their bills ahead at discounts varying from 5 to 7 per cent on goods bought in England to as much as 26 per cent on goods purchased in Italy. A great many importers, it was said, had seized this opportunity.

Although the value of the French franc was depressed from 15 to 18 per cent, importers of French goods, it was said, would benefit but little by the rate.

Importers of champagne are making money, it was said, due to the exchange rate, and are sharing their profits with jobbers and wholesale merchants here. But it was generally asserted that champagne would be no cheaper. The same situation holds true, it was said, with respect to imports from Italy, chiefly fancy groceries and olive oil.

Five million dollars' worth of crude rubber was imported through the port of New York in July. This at prevailing exchange rates could be discounted 5 per cent in price. Whether this profit would be passed on to the retailers of automobile tires and other products in whole or part was a matter which could not be learned.

Diamonds, to which the same conditions apply, will not be cheaper, it was said. It was pointed out, however, that fewer diamonds than ever are now coming into the country and that fewer than ordinarily are being sold here. Diamond imports through New York were said to approximate only $25,000 during the entire month of July.

One reason why retail prices will not be cheaper, it was said, is because of the tremendous advance in ocean freight and insurance rates. The former have increased 300 per cent in many instances and the latter have soared very high because of war risks. Many importers said that but for the depreciation in foreign moneys here prices of all imported articles would have been greatly advanced.

An unusual situation has followed the war in Italy so far as her exports are concerned. Importers here said that in a great number of cases Italian firms would not accept their own money for goods, but insisted upon payment being made in sterling or dollars. The reason given was that while lires were at a 26 per cent discount or thereabouts, sterling was down only 5 per cent.

Senator Sherman Praises Wilson

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 2.—In a speech at a "home coming" celebration at Rochester, Ill. today, United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman praised the policy of President Wilson in dealing with international questions and denounced the utterances of former President Theodore Roosevelt relative to the administration.

"When President Wilson speaks," said Senator Sherman, "the American people speak through him.

"I would rather the president should talk through Secretary Lansing for weeks and months than to be there asking young boys to leave their mothers for the trenches.

"They have been 'acting' in Europe for over a year and the longer they 'act' the worse it gets. The longer President Wilson talks the better conditions become. I would rather talk than fight any day.

"If I can avoid these things by talking I don't care if there is someone in Oyster Bay who wants to fight. I'll agree with the president as long as his policy is the same as it is now, regarding war with another nation. God speed our president to go on talking and keep us at peace."

Cavalry Will Be Sent to Philippines

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 2.—The war department, deciding that it must violate the rule of keeping not less than two full regiments on duty in the Philippines until actually relieved, has at last solved the problem of sending two regiments of cavalry to the Philippines without impairing the line of troops patrolling the Mexican border. Reports to the southern department of the army indicating the inadvisability of decreasing the border patrol even by a company at this time. The Ninth and Fifteenth regiments of cavalry on the Mexican border are to relieve the Seventh and Eighth regiments, which have long overstayed their time in the Philippines. The Eighth has sailed from Manila and is due to arrive at Fort Bliss Sept. 20, relieving the Fifteenth, now located at El Paso. The Fifteenth will leave for San Francisco Sept. 25 and sail from that port Oct. 5. The Seventh cavalry will leave Manila in November and arrive at Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 20. A few days later the Ninth cavalry will be taken from the border patrol and entrain for San Francisco and sail from that port Jan. 5.

Wealthy Woman Is Held Under $10,000 Bond at Providence

Providence, R. I., Sept. 2.—Fifteen hours after Mrs. Elizabeth Tiffany Mohr had been arrested as a result of the confession by three negroes that she had hired them for $5000 to kill her husband, C. Franklin Mohr, a wealthy physician of this city and Newport, she was released in $10,000 bail tonight. In view of the serious charge that she had "aided, counselled and hired" the three men to kill Dr. Mohr, who was shot down at the time his secretary, Miss Emily G. Burger, was seriously wounded as they sat in their stalled automobile in a dark spot on Nayatt road Tuesday night, Assistant District Attorney Claude R. Beach asked that bail be fixed at $25,000, but Judge Geo. F. Brown of the superior court held $10,000 was sufficient. Mrs. Mohr, who maintained her composure throughout the proceedings, was driven afterward to the house where she boards with her three children.

The only statement obtained from Mrs. Mohr was a denial of the charges against her. When confronted with C. V. Brown, the former hostler on the Mohr estate, whose confession led to her arrest, she said: "It is not so. You know you came up to my house and said that you were going to get square with the doctor because he did not pay you what he owed you. I told you not to be foolish."

Brown with his two alleged accomplices, Henry S[illegible] his half brother, and Geo[illegible]Healis, the doctor's chauffeur, were locked up tonight in the Bristol county jail. All three are charged with murder. Miss Burger is said to be recovering from her wounds.

German Submarines Are Caught in a Net by British

New York, Sept. 2.—An officer of the White Star liner Adriatic, which arrived from Liverpool today, declared that the German submarine which sank the Arabic had been caught in a steel net and the U boat's crew were now prisoners in England. He added that within the last sixty days the British have captured no less than fifty German submarines.

The officer said he could not, for obvious reasons, disclose the place of capture nor detail the circumstances. He said, however, that the U boat was of the latest and large type and that the craft carried a double crew. He understood that the Germans now man all of the large submarines with an auxiliary crew for training purposes.

Many British Ships Sunk by Submarines

Berlin, by Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., Sept. 2.—The Overseas News agency says today:

"According to an official report, the following British steamers have been sunk by submarines during the last few days:

"The Paroo, the Shirkby, the Glenby, the Queen, the Trafalgar and one fishing steamer."

Shipping records list the British steamer Paroo as of 2,665 tons gross tonnage. There is no record of her movements since she arrived at Singapore on Aug. 8 from Freemantle. The Glenby, of 2,196 tons gross, was at Cardiff on Aug. 13. Three steamers, named the Queen, all of less than 400 tons, are listed, while two Trafalgars are on the records, one of 4,572 tons and the other of 1,589 tons. Available records do not contain the name of a steamer Shrikby.

BRAZIL GETS NEW BIBLE.

Will Prove a Great Aid to Language As Well as to Morals.

A new translation of the Bible into Portuguese has just been completed. Brazil, not Portugal, is the country where the larger part of this edition will be sent. Brazil has the greatest of Portuguese-speaking populations, though it used to be said that 10,000 users of that language lived around Honolulu a city in Uncle Sam's territory. Maybe they all know English now.

Aside from its moral value, the Bible is particularly needed in Brazil, it is said, as an aid to preserving the standard forms of language. As a matter of history, no book has exerted an equal influence in lands where English is read and spoken. The phraseology of the King James version is interwoven through modern literature. Its general use on this continent, where new conditions and a strong tendency to slang would make for rapid change has had a steadying effect on our vocabulary.

It isn't likely that the classic beauty of the English Bible has been paralleled in Portuguese. But even a respectable rendering of a book which has proved its universal appeal in every land will help in more ways than one. Brazil is growing rapidly. Every means should be used to preserve its moral and linguistic standards.—New York Evening Sun.

Corpus Christi Grand Jury Returns Bills Against 41 Men

Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 2.—The grand jury, in special session investigating alleged election irregularities, today returned a new bill of indictment on the same charges as those of the original indictment in which forty-two men were named. The new indictment adds four counts and reduces the number of men indicted to forty-one men, Joe Acebo, a local saloonkeeper, having been dropped from the list.

Trial of the forty-one men will begin next Monday.

Turks Massacre Many Americans

London, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Athens says:

"Travelers arriving from Constantinople announce that on Friday last Turks burned the town of Ismid and massacred a large number of the Armenian inhabitants.

Ismid lies at the head of the Gulf of Ismid in Asia Minor, about fifty-six miles southeast of Constantinople. It had been the residence of both Greek and Armenian archbishops. Its population is about 25,000.

Mrs. W. B. Province Held Without Bail

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 2.—Mrs. W. B. Province, wife of the suburban grocer murdered with a hatchet here on Aug. 12, was today arrested, charged with the actual commission of the offense and held in jail without bond.

The arrest of Mrs. Province came after the hatchet found near Province after his death had been positively identified as one kept in the grocery store, by three adults and a 14-year-old boy, according to a statement from the county attorney's office. At a coroner's inquest Mrs. Province denied the hatchet belonged to the store.

Automobile Laundries.

The Echo, of Berlin, has given an account of the new automobile laundries which now accompany the German armies. They consist of two motor vehicles and a third van, drawn by the other two. The first produces the necessary steam, and has also an apparatus for rapidly drying and disinfecting the washed linen. In the second the washing, ironing and so on is done, and the third carries supplies of coal, wood and utensils. When at work the laundry must, however, be close to a pond, a well or a stream capable of providing plenty of water. It is stated that, with a staff of 24 men, the linen of 2000 soldiers can be washed, dried and disinfected in about 24 hours, and that in this way whole regiments can be kept immune from parasites and infectious disorders.

ANOTHER DALLASITE RUN DOWN--EXPLAINS

FIELDS TELLS OF TROUBLE WITH HIS EYES AND MAKES CONVINCING STATEMENT.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 20, 1915.—When Mr. W. H. Fields, 614 Winnetka, first came to inquire about Hanlac, he said that he suffered from liver trouble, complained of a bad taste in his mouth and his eyes were yellow and blood-shot. His own statement as to what Tanlac, the new medicine, has done for him follows:

"I was very much run down. I had no appetite hardly and did not eat enough to keep a baby alive. My liver was nearly always torpid, as was shown shown by the way my eyes looked.

"I have used about two and one-half bottles of Tanlac and have been regularly using the Tanlac Laxative Tablets for several weeks and I am glad to say that the new medicine has done the work. I am no longer troubled with constipation or liver trouble. My eyes have cleared up and no longer have that yellow or blood-shot appearance. I have a good appetite and have gained in weight, viz., from 119 to 128 pounds, in three and one-half weeks. I recommend Tanlac because it is great and because it made me feel fine, eat like a horse and sleep well."

Mr. Fields is a traveling auditor and salesman and has lived in Dallas for seven years.

Tanlac will continue to be explained at W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store.

British Torpedo 4 Turkish Transports

Paris, Sept. 2.—Four Turkish transports have been torpedoed by British submarines.

Announcement to this effect was made here today officially as follows:

"In the Dardanelles, the last week of August has been calm throughout on the southern front. In the northern zone British troops captured a hillock west of Buvuk Anafarta, which had been contested keenly.

"To the transport sunk Aug. 20 by one of our aviators, it is necessary to add four transports torpedoed by British submarines; two at Acbashiliman and two between Gallipoli and Nagara.

"The guns of the battleships have hit several vessels anchored in the straits."

CONGRATULATIONS GIVEN MR. AND MRS. STROTHER

Today is a notable one within the family of Professor and Mrs. J. T. Strother of West Franklin. This venerable and much beloved couple, for many years respected in their church and friendship circle, reach the fifty-fifth milestone of wedded life. MISS LUCRETIA CRAWFORD TO BE WINTER BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smith of Chicago are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lucretia Crawford, to Spencer Otis, junior, of Barrington, Illinois. No date is given for the wedding. This is news, and pleasurable news, to the many friends of Miss Crawford here. Her visits with Mrs. James Bass, where she has for two winters been so prominent in society, make an event connected with Miss Crawford one of local interest. The formal announcement is made in the Chicago home of the parents and comes upon the date of the marriage of the cousin, Wilbur Crawford, to the sister of Miss Crawford's finance, Miss Winifred Otis.

WACO GUESTS GATHER FOR CHICAGO WEDDING

The news comes that, for the wedding of Wilbur Crawford to Miss Winnifred Otis, tomorrow, a number of Wacoans will be gathered. The presence of some in Chicago, and the timely passage of others through the city from the various resorts, give quite a Waco contingent to congratulate the Waco groom. The Otis home, where the ceremony takes place, is suburban to the city, being Barrington. Attractive grounds and house are the scene. Ante nuptial gayety has marked the event, and, as has been told, Bruce Duncan is now in Chicago to attend Mr. Crawford. Miss Kathlee Timolat of Temple, who is so favorably known in Waco society, is present for this gayety, and remains for a visit with Miss Crawford.

MRS. C. G. CARLTON HAS PARTING PLEASURE

Pleasure in that it was to be the center of friends and neighbors, yet sad that it was the last hour with these, was the experience with Mrs. C. G. Carlton of West Columbus street. Today Mrs. Carlton is leaving to reside in Alexandria, Louisiana, and this courtesy from Mrs. B. R. Mason was opportunity for those present to extend good wishes for future residence. Informally, the hour passed, first with fancy work and later with the hostess' refreshing plate. Invited by Mrs. Mason for this last hour with her neighbor and friend were the Mesdames H. J. Connally, H. W. Hill, J. O. Jackson, Jessie Gray Smith, M. A. Martin, W. Martin, W. Walker, R. H. Gray, V. C. McIntyre, W. Swaty and N. L. Snell.

MISS CATHERINE FAUST HAS SOCIAL COURTESIES

During the visit with Miss Landis Barton, Miss Catherine Faust, a Baylor university student, from Dublin, was the recipient of several social courtesies. Miss Barton provided as her especial pleasure a picnic supper out at Cameron park. Not only the supper, but the cooking of it, over the camp fire spit, was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Bryan chaperoned the young folks, who were the Misses Margaret Sleeper, Hazel Spencer, Ethel Pierce, Ruth Buchanan, Virginia Paul, Lucile Gooch, Enid Cole, Lera Dee Kyger, Evelyn Boyd, Callie Pearson, Lyda Pearson, with M. D. Jenkins, John E. Lattimore, Richard Spencer, G. B. Rogers, Z. T. Huff, Edwin Guthrie, Boyd Alexander, Homer Caskey, Whit Rogers, Harold Gooch, Earl Grogan, James Jenkins, Speight Jenkins, H. G. Moore, Henderson Barton, Harry Paine.

CITY FEDERATION TRANSACTS BUSINESS

Owing to the detention from sprained limb, Mrs. Lewellyn Aubrey invited the board session of the City Federation of Missionary societies into her own home. This met yesterday morning, and resulted in several important matters to be furthered. In the meantime, the program is forming for the bi-monthly session of the Federation in October.

It was decided to enter a float into the section of the Children's pageant which portrays the civic awakening of this city. On the float the Traveler's Aid and the Health Nurse will be made prominent. The Cotton Palace booth for promotion of the public nurse will be in charge of Miss Susie Jones.

The something new is, the decision that the Federation will open an employment bureau. This means office employment, professional services, even the maid of the kitchen, can file name and receive benefit. A supervisor was selected and it is hoped she may consent to serve.

A decided departure and one which will extend the work was the decision to inaugurate a young people's division. Miss Hazel Spencer was selected supervisor and organizer.

The appeal from the Morning News for co-operation among women as individuals for support of the free night school was read, and each member of the board agreed to use all possible influence towards making the advantage of the night school known to all, especially foreigners.

Other than these, only routine matters were discussed.

MISS ESSE FORRESTER FOR MISS GEORGIA STREETER

Truly time fleets carelessly for, scarce over high school days, where the two were class mates, than Miss Essie Forrester was hostess in honor of the coming marriage of Miss Georgia Streeter. School days glided into college days, and now Miss Streeter has just returned from "the State," where the beginning of what Saint Paul's marriage benediction will be the end, came. Notably, the high school colors are gold and white; the same with the State; so, with Miss Forrester's well known artistic talent, devices were wrought which combined the two events. Guests selected by Miss Forrester were the high school classmates and the university friends. As the guest of honor entered, she was greeted with the old high school yell, quickly changed to the State in honor of the groom involved, Senator H. L. Darwin, a State student. All through the afternoon the gold and the white were in evidence, even to the school satchel of handkerchiefs with which the shower feature came, and into the honoree's gown. Around the punch bowl were the toasts becoming a bridal celebration, bright words, and clever rhymes, to bespeak the girls left behind, school days, the groom and the bride. Those who gave the toasts were Miss Vashtie Hubby, Mrs. Margarite Blair Moore, Miss Sue Edmond and Miss Lucile Lewis. Mrs. Kyle Vick was the toastmistress. Here the cake was cut to test fortune. The Misses Vera Lee and Ruby McClain contributed the music, while tiny Annie Clement presented the gifts. The matron sisters of Miss Streeter, the Mesdames Maxfield and Mixon, were assistant hostesses. Miss Pauline Crawley imparted the college spirit with songs. In all, the afternoon, the first, by the way, of new season gatherings, was more than enjoyable. Miss Forrester's guests were the Misses Roberta Rogers, Virginia Paul, Jennie Lazenby, Pauline Crawley, Clara Parsons, Ellen Forsgard, Ray Fraser, Nannie Claire Halbert, Lucile Gooch, Ruth Damron, Hattie Morse, Sallie Cartwright, Monette Colgin, Lucile Lewis, Sue Edmond, Fay Clinton, Beuna Clinton, Vashtie Hubby, Ruby McClain, Verda Lee McClain, Lucy Lazenby, Lilian Evans, Clara Evans, Bessie Byrd Burleson, Bonnie Dee Thompson of Paris, with the Mesdames Kyle Vick, Gladys Joseph Thompson, Staley, Moore and George D. Streeter.

Does it not seem really pathetic that the debutantes of 1915 will not be welcomed into society through a Philo opening ball? For the first time in nearly thirty years this condition exists.

But, speaking of the debutantes, already we hear plans for formal presentation.

It is now the season to pay homage to our national flower, the bold, glowing golden rod. While the beards of bloom do not attain the perfection in Texas that is seen elsewhere, yet we have sufficient to make the golden rod worthy place upon our verandas.

Among late season departures will be that of Mrs. Charles Moore from West Austin for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Josephine McLennan Badger, in Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Moore will leave within the coming week.

On Thursday Mrs. W. H. Wood and Miss Mary Belle Wood removed for their winter home to the Robert Rogers cottage, South Fifth street.

It is pleasing news to the old home friends that Miss Clara White, who is on her first visit since removal to Havana, is to remain through the winter.

Already we begin to hear plans for Cotton Palace gayety. Visitors are even this soon reported for the exciting weeks.

Listen for the echo of wedding bells from Temple within the next fortnight. This bride to come is well known here.

In compliment to their guest, Lieutenant J. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potts are adding a table of four to the dinner guests out at the Huaco club tonight.

Following her harrowing storm experience while visiting on Galveston island, Miss Norma Bonner of Terrace Row is now the guest of Miss Bess Saunders in Bonham, with no day set for her homecoming.

Mrs. Flora Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton with Mr. and Mrs. William Waldo Cameron have, within the past few days, gone from Magnolia Beach, Mass., where they tarried after their motor trip through Maine. They are now in New York City for a short sojourn.

Very Little Money Being Sent in for Storm Sufferers

Very little money is being received by Governor Ferguson for the relief of the storm sufferers along the Texas coast, according to the following letter just received by Mayor J. W. Riggins:

"Hon. J. W. Riggins,
"Mayor, Waco, Texas.
"My Dear Sir

"In some way or other your favor of the 24th inst. has been overlooked. I am directed by the governor to acknowledge receipt thereof, and to thank you cordially for your suggestions.

The governor has only received approximately $2000 in response to his appeal, and this money is being distributed to the several county judges in the storm-stricken district, with the request that they use it for the purpose of alleviating the condition of those living in the rural districts, and who heretofore have been overlooked by relief committees. The distribution of food and clothing is being made by the adjutant general under the direction of the governor. The governor is personally distributing the money.

"Again thanking you for your letter and extending the governor's kindest regards, I beg to remain,

"Sincerely yours,
(Signed) "JNO. L. WROE,
"Secretary to the Governor."

WOMEN FROM 45 to 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life.

Westbrook, Me.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. LAWRENCE MARTIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."—Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Notice to Subscribers.

Delivery routes in the City of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscription accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they cannot afford to extend credit, except month by month. They are not required, and they are advised against, deliverying the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hard working men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the city of Waco by 6:30 a. m., and subscribers failing to receive the paper at that time will confer a favor by phoning the Circulation Department, both phones 1132, and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Morning News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the management.

A TRUE BENEFACTOR.

A few weeks ago the leading savings bank of Fort Worth went into bankruptcy, with the prospect that the depositors would receive a very small proportion of the funds which they had placed there.

And the unfortunate feature of the situation is that the majority of the depositors were persons of small means—as is so frequently the case—men and women who work for small wages and manage by simple living and strict economy to save up a few dollars for a rainy day and old age. Among the depositors in the defunct Fort Worth bank were a number of the female employes of W. C. Stripling, owner of a large department store.

Mr. Stripling is not and has not been connected with the defunct bank in any way. He had no means of knowing that it was going on the rocks. He was out of the city on his vacation when the crisis in the affairs of the bank came and returned to Fort Worth only a few days ago. But when he did return home he learned that a number of the women in his employ—women who are, by the force of circumstances, self-supporting, widows who have children at home dependent upon them, young girls with widowed mothers and small brothers and sisters whom they support—had lost their savings by the failure of the bank and began to contemplate how those savings could be restored.

He recalled, no doubt, that when he came to Fort Worth many years ago he was a poor man. Had he been robbed of his small savings at that time he might have been doomed to poverty. But he happened to no such misfortune. With the start which he already had as a nucleus he launched out in business for himself and by diligence and good management and foresight he has built up one of the largest department stores in Fort Worth or North Texas. But he would never have succeeded in business had it not been for the faithfulness of the hundreds of persons in his employ throughout the years and it is no doubt his feeling of obligation and gratitude, especially to the women in his employ, that has impelled him to guarantee them against loss through the failure of a bank in which they had every confidence.

To Mr. Stripling the sum of $4,000 which he will replace is a small sum, comparatively speaking, but to the women who lost this amount through the alleged mismanagement of the bank, it means a great deal; and while he was under no legal obligation to come to their rescue the fact that he has done so commends him as a man who recognizes finer moral and social duties than the cold law takes cognizance of.

And while Mr. Stripling did not intend this contribution as an investment for his store, we venture that it will prove so in spite of his desires for the higher laws of compensation are unfailing and immutable. And his compensations will be material as well as spiritual.

President Wilson is "some" pacifier. Having brought about amicable relations with Germany and secured the indorsement of the Kentucky democrats within a week—the most terrific pre-election arraignment brought against the president was that from the forceful pen of Marse Henry of the Blue Grass State—we think he is entitled to another nomination without opposition, or anything else he wants.

WHERE AMERICA AND GERMANY GAIN.

Even our most militaristic citizens cannot but rejoice in the vindication of President Wilson's position as established in the declaration of Germany that she will sink no more unarmed merchant ships until they have been adequately warned and their passengers and crews rescued. And the declaration is all the more creditable both to the president's diplomacy and to the good sense and fairness of Germany that this decision was reached before the sinking of the Arabic, which for a brief season, apparently, brought the tense feeling in this country almost to the breaking point.

We had never been able to see the point in the Tirpitz policy of sinking without warning defenseless passenger ships, whether carrying defenseless passengers of opposing or neutral countries. Such a policy was in violation of international law and the rights of neutrals and could serve no good purpose, unless giving vent to the lower passions which war always arouses, can be called a good purpose. Nor could we see any reason why Germany should desire to incur the displeasure of the United States, for, all finer considerations aside, the friendship of this country would be more valuable to Germany than that of any other neutral power in case the tide should at any time turn against the kaiser's forces.

And now that all obstacles to the re-establishment of cordial relations with Germany have apparently been removed, the United States will have a freer hand in the prosecution of its protests against Great Britain and her allies over their interference with our commerce with neutral countries. With Germany having acceded to our demands in regard to the rights of non-combatant passengers upon the high seas, Great Britain will feel much heavier pressure brought to bear upon her to respect the rights of neutral commerce and it may not be too much to expect that she may be forced to yield the point of permitting Germany to receive food supplies for her civil population.

With this much accomplished, the optimists are believing that the way will have been paved for our intercession in behalf of peace. This may be too much to hope for yet. But whether it is or not, President Wilson's policies have scored a remarkable triumph already and it is but reasonable to believe that their ultimate end has not yet been attained. The prospect of war with Germany, or even the severance of friendly relations, has, to all appearances, been permanently removed and if nothing further should come of the president's high and firm stand, we have abundant occasion for gratitude.

Nor does Germany lose anything in prestige in conceding the correctness of the American position. She is doing nothing more than coming to her better senses and responding to those finer principles of justice and right which have made the German people great. Her concession of the American position will not help her in killing off any more of the enemy, but it will be of great value in maintaining the respect and friendship of neutral countries during the remainder of the war and toward refuting the contention of her enemies that she deliberately murders innocent men, women and children.

We have talked about Brazos navigation until the subject, so long as it is confined to talk, fails to arouse interest. The time has come for action.

Having established a municipal warehouse and cinched the 1915 pennant of the Texas baseball league, it is in order to push for a bigger and better Cotton Palace, a sewage disposal plant and boats on the Brazos in 1916.

Judged by the furious manner in which the Sulphur Springs mob disposed of those two negroes last Sunday afternoon, there are evidently other persons than "Cyclone" Davis in the Hopkins county capital who have fast and furious ways.

Members of the public school board of the city are willing to open a free night school for the boys and girls of the city if the patronage is sufficient to justify the venture. The question is up to the parents and the children as to whether the opportunity will be afforded.

In bringing Germany to accept the American position on the sinking of unarmed merchant ships President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have accomplished the double feat of avoiding the prospect of war for this country and of modifying the temperature at which Teddy's blood boils.

Our commercial organizations over the state might render a useful public service by finding out how the candidates for the United States senate and representative from the various districts stand on the question of limiting the control which the Interstate Commerce Commission is exercising over purely intra-state freight rates.

C. M. CLISBEE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

PIONEER TRANSFER MAN OF TEXAS PASSES AWAY AT HOME HERE, AGE 52.

POSSESSED SUNNY DISPOSITION

Funeral Services Will Take Place From Residence at 10 O'Clock Tomorrow Morning.

C. M. Clisbee, one of Texas' pioneer transfer men, died at 3:10 yesterday afternoon at his home, 2120 Washington street, after a long illness. He was 52 years old at the time of his death and is survived by his widow, a son, C. M. Clisbee Jr.; a daughter, Nannie Rose, and the following brothers and sisters: Frank and Lee Clisbee, Mrs. Ruth Hough of Quanah, F. B. Clisbee of Bowie, Mrs. John Riley, Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. C. M. Christie of Allen.

The deceased was born in Henry, Ill., and came to Texas in 1871, locating at Waco in 1895, moving here from Henrietta. He was one of the pioneers of the state in the transfer business and was a charter member of the state organization of transfer men. He was taken sick twelve years ago, but remained active in his business until last December, since which time he had been confined to his bed.

Mr. Clisbee was of a sunny disposition and even during his illness retained much of his ability to cheer others. Probably no man in Waco was more of an optimist than he, nor did any more to make others happy by causing them to laugh and smile.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the residence, with the Christian Science reader officiating. Interment will be in Parklawn cemetery.

The pall bearers will be, active, Percy Willis, Fred Mailander, Robert Frazier, Richard Jurney, John M. Dockery and J. H. Megarity; honorary, J. K. Rose, Capt. W. J. Mosley, Alfred Abeel, W. M. Manchester, Judge William Sleeper, E. F. Drake, Ludwell Williams and J. L. Whitworth.

Fifty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of Waco Couple Comes Today

Prof. and Mrs. Joseph T. Strother will observe their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary today at their home, 1820 Franklin street. For fifteen years he was a member of the Baylor university faculty, after which he conducted a private school until about ten years ago, when he was forced to stop by a stroke of paralysis.

The Strothers will have no formal celebration but their many friends will congratulate them today upon the auspicious event. Prof. Strothers is 78, his wife 69 years of age.

Music to Feature Sunday Meeting at Crystal Theatre

The speakers for the day will be C. J. Clanton, manager of the Rotan Candy company, and Crate Dalton of the Dalton Investment & Bonding Co. Both of these men are gifted and helpful speakers.

NEW DEBATING CLUB HOLDS GOOD MEETING

DECISION OF JUDGES IN THAT FOREIGN POLICY TOWARD GERMANY UNWISE.

John B. McNamara Speaks on Self Development as Making for Efficient Citizenship.

Self-development in order to give efficiency in citizenship was stressed last night by County Attorney John B. McNamara in an address before the debating club, recently organized, which met in the Nineteenth District court room. There were thirty-five members present and President Albert C. Johnston called on each of them to speak a few words introducing himself to the others.

The subject for debate was, "Resolved, That President Wilson's foreign policy toward Germany has been unwise," the affirmative gaining the decision. The debaters were T. E. Johnston, H. H. King for the affirmative and Dan Hightower, W. N. Blanton for the negative.

On next Thursday night the subject for debate will be "Resolved, That Texas should adopt a constitutional amendment providing a loan fund for worthy students." M. V. Self and Cecil McGuffie will uphold the affirmative, W. W. McKie and F. F. Marrs the negative. Walton B. Taylor will deliver an address.

ORPHEUM PROGRAM PLEASES

Eldridge and Barlow Easy Headliners in Clever Comedy—Cenchas Does Remarkable Stunts.

The second of this week's vaudeville programs at the Orpheum theatre, which appeared for the first time yesterday afternoon, and again last night to good audiences, was the best of its kind that has been seen in Waco for two or three years.

Eldridge and Barlow, in a comedy entitled "The Law," are easy headliners of the program and are exceptionally interesting. Chot Eldridge as William Yuss, postmaster, merchant, hotelkeeper, deputy sheriff, and holder of other positions of importance in a country village in Missouri, is a very clever actor, is well costumed and contributes an abundance of fun for the audience, while Harriet Barlow as Helen Towne, an actress, bound for St. Louis, is an able support. The humor throughout the act is spontaneous and infectious and clean.

Powerful in strength of body and perfect in symmetrical development, Paul Conchas, a "strong man," puts on a series of stunts requiring strength and dexterity that are really marvelous. Possibly no better physical specimen has appeared on a local stage and his handling of himself and his weights is remarkable.

George Yeoman, scheduled to play a "nut" act, "delivers the goods" all right. He neither sings nor tells jokes, but manages to make the orchestra laugh and when the orchestra laughs the audience joins in the fun and Yeoman manages to "get his stunt across," which, after all, is the test of success.

Elsie Murphy and Eddie Klein, in popular and sentimental songs, are fairly good, Miss Murphy's singing of "Just for the Love of You" and "The Bravest Little Soldier of Them All"—the latter having been written especially for her by Mr. Klein—being very acceptable. Klein contributes a saxophone solo with orchestral accompaniment.

The orchestra at the Orpheum is furnishing good music and contributes greatly to the enjoyment of the programs. The half hour of pictures preceding the vaudeville is good. Yesterday's program will be continued through the week, matinee at 3 p. m. and evening performances at 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

Working Boys' Club Hears Account of Old Organization

Reminiscences of the former Newsboys' club that was organized in Waco fifteen years ago by Miss Mattie Wright, were furnished members of the Working Boys' club last night by G. W. Barcus, who assisted Miss Wright in her work. He gave the history of some of the boys who have come to be successful business men in this and other cities and told of the debates, military drills and mock sessions of the city councils which were held by the boys of that club. Mr. Barcus also told how Miss Wright is now engaged in boys' club work on an extensive scale in San Francisco, where the city has furnished her with a block of ground that is well equipped for the work that she needs to do.

Because of his friendship for the boys, Mr. Barcus tendered his services to any of the boys who might need to consult a lawyer, free of charge.

Mrs. Davis Gurley began an interesting review of her recent trip through the western states, last night's installment including a vivid description of the visit to the Grand Canyon of Arizona. Her depiction of the matchless scenery was so realistic that her audience hung upon as if they were witnesses of the scene she was describing. She will continue her narrative on succeeding Thursday nights until her whole trip has been rehearsed.

Good Start Made on Y M C A Campaign for New Members

The first meeting of the workers in the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign was held yesterday noon with about fifty of the livest wires in the city present.

N. H. Melbert explained the campaign and then distributed a schedule of classes and a very interesting pamphlet called "My Business Partner, the Gym," after which the captains drew for territory.

While no reports have been turned into date, yet enough has leaked out to show that this campaign will without doubt be one of the best ever run by the Y. M. C. A. here.

The workers will meet for dinner today at 12:10 and for the final lunch and reports tonight at 6:30.

One thing that has been noted during the campaign is the desire of the substantial business men to come in on the new sustaining membership plan.

BRAZOS NAVIGATION TRIP STARTS TODAY

REPRESENTATIVES OF WACO'S BUSINESS AND CIVIC LIFE TO VISIT TOWNS ALONG RIVER.

INTEREST MUST BE AROUSED

Executive Board Will Conduct Campaign to See That Inland Waterway Project is Completed.

Representatives of thirty-two Waco business houses, accompanied by Mayor J. W. Riggins and the city commissioners, will make a trip to eight of the principal towns down the Brazos today and tomorrow, in an effort to arouse interest in Brazos navigation. The trip will be taken over the H. & T. C. on a special motor car, which will leave the union station at 8:30 this morning.

Since such a strenuous fight has arisen on all inland waterway propositions, it is necessary that congress be shown the people living along the Brazos really are interested in navigation. It will take concerted action to push through the appropriations still needed to complete the work on the Brazos, and, for that reason, the Waco Chamber of Commerce and Young Men's Business League appointed prominent workers from those organizations to form an executive navigation board, with W. W. Seley general chairman.

It is proposed to add to this executive board from every town visited so that the board will be truly representative of the entire Brazos valley. This trip is only to be the start. A vigorous publicity campaign is to follow, which will not stop, as one man said yesterday, "until the ships are going up and down the Brazos."

Government engineers have pronounced the Brazos the best stream for navigation in Texas. In fact, ships have carried merchandise from one river point to another in days before the railroad came. River navigation would mean cheap freight rates, and also that many articles could be sent down to the gulf via the water route which can really be handled as well that way.

Some of Waco's most prominent men will be in the party and every one of them is enthusiastic over the proposition. All of them unite in declaring the trip a most important one, as it is hoped to cement the entire territory affected by bonds of mutual self-interest after the situation is explained at each town.

The firms which will be represented each of them having contributed $10 toward the trip are Behrens Drug Co., Lipshitz S. & R. Works, R. T. Dennis & Co., Lacy Coal Co., Hill Printing Co., Pat F. Hopkins, J. L. Mistrot, Big 4 Ice and Cold Storage Co., First National Bank, Central Texas Exchange National Bank, Sanger Bros., Herrick Hardware Co., Crow Bros.' Laundry, the D. June Machinery Co., Industrial Oil Co., McLendon Hardware Co., Cooper Grocery Co., Provident National Bank, W. W. Seley, E. W. Marshall, Waco Morning News, Waco Drug Co., Citizens' National Bank, First State Bank and Trust Co. Turner-Coffield Co., Texas, Power and Light Co., W. J. Neale, Amicable Life Insurance Co., F. W. Woolworth & Co., William Cameron & Co. Inc., Waco Cotton Oil Mill.

That not only business Waco but official Waco is enthusiastic is shown by the fact that Mayor Riggins and the city commission yesterday voted $1200 toward the expense of gathering data on Brazos river tonnage and promised to submit a bond issue for the erection of docks and wharves at this place.

The itinerary, as announced yesterday will be as follows:

Dressed as a Man Woman Is Caught in Picture Show

Overlooking the fact that men took off their hats in theatres caused the apprehension last night of a Waco woman who was masquerading as a man. Attendants in the Nickel moving picture show noticed that one "fellow," sitting over against the wall, had "his" cap on.

"Say, you'll have to take your cap off," an attendant told the "man," but instead of doing so, "he" jumped up and went out, another man with "him." The police were notified and Night Chief Charles James and Plainclothesman Bud Brandon responded to the call, catching both persons.

The woman, who is middle-aged, claimed that she had been told it was all right for her to wear men's clothes and that she had been a great help to the police in ferreting out crime. Chief of Police Guy McNamara is satisfied that she is the same person who has been writing him anonymous letters, berating him for various things and accusing him of not doing his duty. The other man really was a male personage. Both of them will be allowed to tell their story in the city court this morning.

Her brother, Mr. Edwards, who has been on the banks directing the search continually since the tragedy, stated this morning he would keep up the day-and-night search until the body was found, but that he had been told there was little chance of recovering it now before Sunday, which would make nine days since the drowning. He hopes to secure a motorboat by Sunday if results are not secured before that time and offers a reward of $25 to any one at any point on the river notifying the sheriff of Falls county of the finding of the body.

Marlin Militia Meets.

Marlin, Sept. 2.—The B. C. Clark Light Guards met last night at the court house, holding a short business session before turning out for their first drill. Forty-six answered roll call and various members told of others who intended to join within the next few days, which would easily bring the number up to the required strength.

Cuyler Cousins and George Stallworth were assigned to temporary detail work and the meeting adjourned to have drill work.

Captain Jameson divided the men into squads with officers to drill each division and the first instruction was given in facing, marching, column movements, squad turning, etc. The boys did so well there was no necessity for the forming of an "awkward squad."

REFUSE TO DELAY HEARING OF RATES

RAILROAD COMMISSION ORDERS TO PROCEED IN PROPOSED INCREASE MATTER.

Practically Whole Day Consumed in Taking Expert Testimony of Fitzgerald.

Austin, Sept. 2.—Overruling the motion of its special counsel to postpone further hearing of the Texas railroads' application for increase in freight rates until its jurisdiction had been determined, the railroad commission this morning ordered the hearing to proceed.

H. M. Garwood, attorney for the railroads, suggested that the quickest way to reach a determination of the entire question as to freight rates and the status of the Shreveport decisions as affecting the state commissions and its rates, would be through litigation begun in the federal courts and carried to the supreme court of the United States.

Earl B. Mayfield, a member of the commission, stated he did not believe the tariff of the Interstate Commerce commission would stand the test of the supreme court. Expert testimony of the experts hired by the commission was presented. Stress was laid upon the increase in salaries of railroad officials during the past year. W. E. Fitzgerald, auditor of the railroad commission, was placed on the stand. His figures were contested by the railroads. They showed a substantial profit on Texas business. The entire day, practically, was consumed in taking expert testimony from Fitzgerald.

Brewery Hearing Continues.

Austin, Sept. 2.—Trade methods at El Paso and efforts of the state to prove the existence of joint agencies between the Houston Ice & Brewing company and the El Paso Brewing company occupied most of today, the time of the special hearing to take testimony in the brewery suit. R. L. Autrey of Houston was on the stand and testified concerning the alleged existence of an agreement with the Houston Ice & Brewing company and the El Paso brewery in the principal roles for the purpose of fighting outside companies.

The state also sought to prove existence of joint agencies at Caldwell, Ingle, Humbolt, Strawn and Calvert.

It is not expected there will be much more than 150,000 votes cast out of a total voting strength of about 582,000 in Texas. Twenty-three counties failed to make returns.

No Encampment of the National Guard

Austin, Sept. 2.—Because of insufficient funds available for that purpose, the encampment of the Texas National Guard, which was to have been held this month, has been practically called off, according to information obtained today. The federal government's allotment to the state of Texas is $50,000 and only one half of this amount is available for encampment purposes, and it is pointed out that this amount is insufficient to defray the expenses of an encampment, and further, the state of Texas has no funds available for that purpose.

Another reason for abandoning the idea of an encampment is because there has not as yet been any settlement between the state and federal government of the alleged property shortage disclosed some time ago. The season is also too far advanced, it is stated, to hold a successful camp of the state militia.

THEATRES

REX.

"The Tigress" Today.

Today the massive production, "The Tigress," featuring the celebrated Russian Circassian siren, Olga Petrova, who bears the distinction of being the first vampire woman to attract world-wide fame. As "The Tigress," she gives full play to her wonderful emotional ability which is reinforced by her magnificent physique, magnetic charm and transcendent beauty. You will always regret it if you fail to see this Titian-haired Cleopatra in her most triumphant characterization, "The Tigress."

"Cinderella" Saturday.

Those who thought that the Rex had reached the zenith of children's day wonders last Saturday in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be pleased to learn that the best is yet to come. It is with unalloyed pleasure that the Rex management presents for tomorrow the inimitable screen idol, Mary Pickford, in a new and wonderful motion picture version of the celebrated and universally loved story of "Cinderella."

"Cinderella" might have been written to order for Miss Pickford, so amazingly does the role of the ragged and beautiful little cinder-girl fit her. The story, which has been enthroned in the hearts of all children since fairy stories were first thrillingly and mysteriously whispered in the dark, to the little ones at "mother's knee," and the memory of which they cherish through all their lives, however old they grow to be, is so well known that no retelling is necessary here.

Beautiful as is the old story itself, it has been so enriched in the film version, so many new features have been artistically blended with the old, in which the natural and the supernatural, the eerie and the human, mingle, and the romance of the handsome and courageous prince and the little maid of the cinders is so originally and exquisitely portrayed, that the picture promises to be as great a treat with the grown-ups as to the children. To them, the Fairy-Queen herself will appear, in order to assure them that no real harm shall come to the hapless little heroine she has taken under her royal protection. Altogether, the photoplay promises, with its elaborate production, its unique presentation, and most of all, its famous little star, Mary Pickford, to make a rare entertainment for all amusement seekers who appreciate a really artistic and consummate film offering.

HIPPODROME.

"Infatuation."

Margarita Fischer, the American Beauty Girl of the Mutual master pictures, appears again at the Hippodrome today and tomorrow in the newest feature film, "Infatuation," which is in four reels.

Though this picture shows some of the seamy sides of a matinee idol's life, it would never cure a theatre-going girl of writing notes to a 10-20-30 hero. Perhaps this picture will be all the more popular because, while it throws some interesting lights on life behind the scenes, it has as happy and romantic ending as a hero-worshiping girl herself could wish for. The play is pleasingly presented by the American company, and excellently photographed.

The story deals with the infatuation of Phyllis Ladd, only daughter of a railroad president, for the leading man of a stock company. Phyllis is a type of rich girl very frequently found in smaller towns. Impulsive and high-spirited, she finds the man of her own town commoplace and the society men of Washington entirely too stiff and conventional. She tells her father, who is her constant companion, that she is hunting for "a golden young man" and when she sees Cyril Adair, a handsome actor, she immediately sees that he has a charm which she has hitherto not found in any man. After a warm courtship Phyllis elopes with Adair, who has up to this time looked upon the affair with the heiress as an agreeable adventure.

Phyllis is cast off by her father, who does everything in his power to prevent Adair from getting a part, hoping to force his daughter by poverty to return home. But Phyllis has the patience and determination that sometimes go with impulsive natures and resolves to make a man of Adair. After many discouraging lapses on the part of the actor, Phyllis wins out. Mr. Ladd, learning that Adair is really in love with Phyllis and that Phyllis' infatuation has turned into love, relents and agrees to furnish the money to star Adair in a play.

The character of Phyllis is exceedingly well drawn and is cleverly portrayed by Margarita Fischer. The picture deals with an ever fascinating phase of life and should be well liked. The sordidness of some of the scenes is overbalanced by the final triumph of the girl's patience and courage. Harry Pollard makes the actor likable in spite of his faults and Joseph Singleton is seen as the father.

QUEEN.

Hazel Dawn Today.

Hazel Dawn, one of the screen's most beautiful and charming stars, also proves herself an actress of genuine dramatic power in the Famous Players Film company's appealing photo adaptation of "The Heart of Jennifer," by Edith Barnard Delano, author of another Famous Players screen triumph, "Rags."

"The Heart of Jennifer" is the story of a woman's strong love for her husband, which prompts her to place upon herself the guilt of the crime committed by his sister. In the role of Jennifer, Hazel Dawn suggests with infinite tenderness and pathos the heroic fortitude of the sacrificing wife. "The Heart of Jennifer" is a photoplay that conforms with the highest standard of the Famous Players Film company.

TWO DETROIT STARS OUT OF TOURNAMENT

THREE EASTERNERS AND ONE WINNER FROM WEST ARE IN SEMI-FINALS.

TRAVERS ACTS AS CADDY

Great Player Carries Bag for Man Who Eliminated Him—Lee-Marston Match Interesting.

Detroit, Sept. 2.—Two heart-breaking battles which resulted in the defeat of Detroi't star survivors, were sparkling incidents today in the third round of match play for the national amateur golf championship. Three easterners and one winner from the west are left to compete in the semi-finals tomorrow.

Max R. Marston of Springfield, N. J., and Howard B. Lee of Detroit claimed a double distinction. They played the poorest golf but took part in the longest and most desperate match. Marston, after seemingly beaten on the home stretch, came up from behind and wrested victory from his opponent on the thirty-eighth hole. James D. Standish Sherill Sherman of Utica, compelled the Sheriff Sherman of Utica, compelled the New Yorker to play 36 holes before the latter won, 1 up.

Robert Gardner of Chicago, former national champion, gave Ned Sawyer of Wheaton, Ill., a fearful beating—the count being 7 up and 6 to play.

Nelson Whitney of New Orleans lost to John G. Anderson of Mount Vernon, N. Y., 3 and 2.

The Lee-Marston match was followed by a large gallery, which included hundreds of the Detroiter's supporters. Jerome Travers, national open champion, who lost to Marston yesterday, acted as caddy for his conqueror. The New Jersey youth was 1 up from the afternoon and the out half of their afternoon game was a grinding task for both men. Not one of the nine holes was halved. Lee was two up at the turn and Marston seemed to be beaten, but his iron nerve, which asserted itself so often yesterday, did not desert him. When Lee increased his margin to 4 up on the 30th the match seemed over.

Then Marston accomplished what was thought impossible. He took the next three holes in par by playing every shot perfect and followed these efforts with the most spectacular feat of the tournament. His second drive for the 34th hole was a wicked slice. The ball sailed off the course and over a fence and landed in an adjoining field. A conference of golf officials followed and they ruled that as the property belonged to the Country club the ball was still in play. Three trees stood between Marston and the cup. He lifted his ball over the fence for a 100-yard drive. Lee was so surprised he lost the hole 6-5 and the match was square. They halved the next three holes. Each took a five for the 37th and were on the 38th green in three, but Lee missed his second putt by a hair's breadth and Marston sank his. Their medal cards were unusually high, neither going below 80 in the morning or afternoon.

Sherman played probably the greatest game of his modest career. He was one hole behind Standish in the forenoon. Twice this afternoon he holed his putt to beat par by a stroke. With the match squared at the 36th, a short drive to the last green put Standish in the ditch and he needed four strokes to approach the cup. Sherman's second putt and fourth effort won him the match.

Sawyer, four down in the forenoon, won only two holes during the rest of the tilt with Gardner. Sawyer's uncertain iron shots and weak putting were responsible for his poor showing.

Anderson's steadiness and the erratic nature of Whitney's short game brought victory to the New Yorker. The New Orleans player was forced to trail all afternoon and the strain told on his nerves. Anderson had a margin of one hole this forenoon. He went out on his second round in 38 and was 3 up on the turn after Whitney had won the 26th and 27th holes. Each won a hole coming back before the fight ended on the 34th green.

Erratic Play Marks Day in Tennis at Forrest Hills, L. I.

Forrest Hills, L. I., Sept. 2.—Erratic play on the part of the leading contenders for the title was the outstanding feature of the third round of the national tennis championship singles tournament on the courts of the West Side club here today. Although the weather conditions were favorable for the fastest kind of court work and the largest gallery of the week was on hand to applaud every brilliant stroke of the players, the general form was not as high as in the earlier rounds.

While there were no upsets to check the progress of the favorites, there was an almost entire absence of the sensational tennis that so thrilled the spectators at Wednesday's matches. R. Norris Williams of Harvard, the playing-through champion, defeated Walter M. Hall of New York, 6-2, 9-7, 2-6, 6-1. M. E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, who captured two legs on the champion bowl in 1912 and 1913, won from Leonard Beekman of New York 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2; Karl Behr of New York disposed of Robert Leroy also of New York 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. W. M. Johnston of San Francisco defeated D. S. Watters of New Orleans 6-1, 6-2, 6-2; Clarence J. Griffin of San Francisco eliminated a Pacific coast team mate in Ward Dawson of Los Angeles 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

Karl Behr and Frederick B. Alexander were among the eastern experts to win their way into the fourth round. Behr defeated Robert LeRoy in straight sets after losing the opening conflict. This match was one of the best of the day on the grand stand courts, so far as high class, consistent tennis was concerned.

J. B. Adoue Jr. of Dallas won his match from R. C. Thomas 6-2, 7-5, 6-4. Adoue will play Williams tomorrow.

BRAVES LOOK BAD IN GAME WITH BROOKLYN

WITH SECOND PLACE IN THE NATIONAL RACE AT STAKE, BOSTON LOSES.

Champions Cut Up on Bench and Are Banished by Umpire Byron.

Boston, Sept. 2.—With second place in the National league at stake, the Bostons opened their series with Brooklyn farcically today, the visitors winning 10 to 1. Evers, who delayed the game while he held a handkerchief to his nose; Fitzpatrick, who did the same thing after he took Evers' position and Schmidt, who argued too strenuously, were banished by Umpire Byron. Antics by Snodgrass and by players on the Boston bench, one of whom threw a spiked shoe in Byron's direction, brought warnings from the umpires.

New York, Sept. 2.—Today Philadelphia recovered the ground lost in its pennant fight here yesterday by taking two games from New York. Tesreau pitched fine ball in the first game, striking out ten men, but Philadelphia bunched hits in the fourth inning, and, aided by an error by Doyle which let in two runs, won the game. In the second game Alexander won a spectacular pitchers' battle from Mathewson. The visitors scored in the sixth inning on singles by Bancroft and Paskert ad Becker's sacrifice fly.

Phillies Increase Lead; Boston Red Sox Hold Their Own

New York, Sept. 2.—While Philadelphia increased its lead in the National league race today, and Boston held its ground in the American, the indications that the races for the pennants will be between two teams in each league became more apparent.

By losing the first game of the series to Brooklyn on the Braves' field, the Boston Nationals were set back further into third place, while Philadelphia, winning two games to Brooklyn's one, slipped a little further ahead of the Superbas.

The Chicago White Sox virtually were eliminated as a contender for the pennant in the American league by losing to Detroit today, the hard-hitting Tigers taking every game of the series.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, Sept. 2.—Relatively easier cables encouraged a renewal of yesterday's selling movement and led to early declines in today's cotton market, but sharp rallies followed on renewed covering and bull support, with December contracts selling up to 10.26, or 20 points net higher. The close was off from the best under realizing, with last prices showing net gains of from 4 to 9 points.

The market opened at a decline of 2 to 5 points and sold 6 to 7 points net lower during the early trading, with October touching 9.67c, December 9.99 and January 10.13c. The forecasts for fair and warmer weather in the belt, except for unsettled conditions along the Carolina coast, promoted the selling movement, as local bears believe that a spell of good weather would hasten the maturity of the plant and lead to increased offerings of actual cotton.

There were also reports of southern hedge selling, but offerings were very well taken at the decline and the market soon turned firmer on Wall street and commission house buying.

Reports that a storm was working toward the Atlantic coast stimulated the demand shortly after midday and there was a spurt of covering which carried October up to 9.92c and January to 10.41c, or 18 to 21 points above last night's closing figures.

The first reports concerning the storm were to the effect that the disturbance was moving northward from the Caribbean sea, but later advices indicated that the storm talk was based upon the disturbance reported in the Atlantic late yesterday and the market eased off some 10 to 12 points from the best during the late trading, with December closing around 10.15c and January 10.29c.

The steadier ruling of sterling exchange markets probably helped the rally from the early decline, and sentiment also was influenced by the optimistic view of general conditions expressed in some of the local banking circles.

No exports were reported today; so far this season 157,061. Port receipts 10,206; United States port stocks 674,957.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 2.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today, but periods of strength were shown, and the close was at a net gain of 9 to 14 points. The approaching holidays caused much realizing on long contracts and this selling was against values. The market, however, was sensitive to bullish news and on soft spots needed support was furnished.

In the earlier trading prices were sent 5 to 9 points under yesterday's close by realizing and by better reports from the belt regarding weather conditions. The good cables were without much influence on prices. Early in the session buying developed on the rise in foreign exchange and on a more hopeful view regarding the political situation.

In addition there were many bullish reports concerning the business being done by both English and American mills. Around the middle of the day the strongest months were 10 points over yesterday's close. This advance was pared down in the early afternoon, but the downward movement was only momentary, as the storm warning for the Atlantic coast and vague rumors of another tropical storm caused heavy buying on which the market bulged sharply to a level 20 to 22 points up on the most active months. When it was seen that the storm was working to the north of the cotton region, prices fell off somewhat, but the close was steady.

WHEAT

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Wheat advanced today on continued covering by shorts, an improvement in the sterling exchange situation and predictions of unfavorable weather in the United States and Canada. At the close the market had a net gain of ¾@⅞c to 1 cent, with September at 97¾c, December at 94⅝@94½c. Congestion in September corn caused it advance ½c, while deferred months were ¾@⅞c net lower. Oats finished unchanged to ⅜c higher after firmness throughout the session. Provisions showed a little improvement on the day just before the close, but finished irregular, with December ribs 2½c higher and December pork 35 cents lower.

The improvement in sterling exchange conditions was coupled with reports that inquiry for wheat to export was now being made and that some of the large houses with seaboard connections were behind the movement. Higher cash premiums also operated for the bulls and small stocks caused sellers of yesterday to cover at higher prices today. A momentary dip came when a crop expert issued a statement that the largest wheat crop on record—1,006,000,000 bushels—was in sight. But bullish sentiment proved too strong to allow the crop estimate to become a dominant factr in the market.

Export demand at the seaboard for wheat was fair. Sales of 300,000 bushels were reported, one third of which was from Chicago operators. The foreign weather situation was also a bull factor. Weather in Europe was wet and harvesting is being delayed. Drouth prevails in Argentine and India. The Liverpool market figures had a stimulating effect here, showing an advance of from 1 to 2 pence.

Cash houses were buyers of September corn from the start today and shorts were scared into covering, as only 61 cars were received and country offerings were small. Favorable weather over the entire domestic corn belt lowered the deferred months and the downturn also was pushed along by a crop estimate of 2,986,000,000 bushels.

Forecasts for unsettled weather over part of the oats belt and for smallness of country offerings, conjoined to give firmness to oats.

A lower range than has been recorded in provisions for some time marked dealings today. December pork had dropped since the last close of 35 cents. Towards the close a little better feeling was manifested on an improved buying support, and prices lifted from the extreme low point.

CALOMEL SELDOM SOLD HERE NOW

NASTY DRUG SALIVATES, MAKES YOU SICK AND YOU LOSE A DAY'S WORK.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist, has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Boy Scout Film Will Be Shown at the "Hip" Saturday

The unstinted efforts of the Associated Mothers' clubs and the Hippodrome management have secured an exceptional program for the children at their Saturday morning matinee at the Hippodrome between 9 o'clock and noon.

The story selected is "The Adventures of a Boy Scout." It is in five reels. According to the story, Tom, a waif, is attracted to the Boy Scout movement, and converted into a useful member of the community by the discipline of the organization. He and his father, who is a ne'er-do-well and a burglar, incur the enmity of a wealthy family, near whose estate the Boy Scouts are encamped. The wealthy owner of the estate, however, and his insipid son in the end are won over to the movement on being impressed by the manly motives of the Scouts. The picture traces the practical value of the Scout movement in upbuilding youthful character. The work of the Boy Scouts in all its aspects is illustrated by a series of descriptive episodes in which the daily routine of the Scouts is shown—their drills, their usefulness in administering first aid to the injured, their esprit de corps, their ability to attack depredators and wrongdoers, their powers of defense.

Operations, such as scaling walls, the rescue and care of wounded, the protection of property, are among the incidents of the film.

The Boy Scouts' adventures coincide with a human interest story which points the moral that eevry boy is a potential asset to his country, that manliness, courage and chivalry always win out.

CITY WILL HELP IN BRAZOS NAVIGATION

COMMISSION VOTES MONEY TO GATHER DATA AND PROMISES TO SUBMIT BONDS.

EDGEFIELD PARK TAKEN OVER

Oakwood Cemetery Controversy Referred to Committee—Anti-Parking Ordinance Passed.

WHAT THE CITY COMMISSION DID

Appropriated $1,200 to compile statistics needed for presentation of Brazos navigation project before congress, and bound government to submit bond issue for building free docks and wharves when navigation shall have been completed.

Referred Oakwood cemetery matter to a committee composed of the mayor, Commissioners Richards and Cockcroft to confer with lot owners of Oakwood.

Accepted Edgefield park from trustees, agreeing to maintain it in the same manner as other city parks.

Passed, under suspended rules, ordinance prohibiting parking of vehicles at the Amicable corner.

Voted to open South Eighth street from Speight to James, by condemnation proceedings if necessary.

Appropriating $1,200 to be used in compiling statistics for presentation to congress when added appropriations for the Brazos are asked for at the next term, binding itself to submit to the people a bond issue to build wharves and docks when navigation shall have become a reality, and voting to go in a body with the party of business men that leaves this morning for a two days' trip down the river in the interest of navigation, the city commission at its meeting yesterday morning lined the city government up with the Young Men's Business League and the Chamber of Commerce in the rejuvenated effort to push the navigation project to completion.

The action of the commission in binding itself to submit a bond issue to the voters for the purpose of providing funds for building free wharfage facilities completed Waco's part of the list of preliminary actions desired from each city along the river and deemed valuable when the matter of further appropriations for the Brazos comes up before the rivers and harbors committee and the national congress. A request that the commission appropriate the $1,200 and bind itself to submit a bond issue was made through a resolution from the navigation executive board. The vote on the two propositions was unanimous.

H. M. Baine, spokesman for the joint executive committee of the Y. M. B. L. and Chamber of Commerce, said that the two committees represented the two business organizations of Waco, who had joined hand in hand for the consummation at the earliest possible moment of the Brazos navigation project, which had been considered seriously by a number of Waco people for more than fifteen years. Mr. Baine said, however, that he understood that this was the first time in the history of the project that a permanent organization had been perfected for the express purpose of carrying out the program in getting navigable water for Waco, for which this organization from the two clubs had been especially formed, with W. W. Seley as general chairman. It is the mission of this new combination to work intelligently, systematically and continuously.

In behalf of the two organizations, Mr. Baine extended the mayor, city commissioners, attorney, chief of police and city secretary an invitation to accompany them as guests of the two organizations on the special train that had been provided to make the trip down the Brazos to form this territory of the Brazos valley into a permanent organization to carry forward the program outlined.

In discussing the resolutions passed by the joint executive committee, Mr. Baine said that this was not an occasion for speechmaking, but that they had come before the commissioners, representing the business citizenship of Waco, and that he knew full well that the mayor and city commissioners had the interest and the development of Waco at heart. Since the city charter provided for wharfage facilities, these organizations wanted a resolution passed to the effect that the commissioners would submit, at the proper time, the question of bonds to be voted upon by the citizens for this purpose, and while such a resolution would not bind future mayors and commissioners, the moral effect would have its weight, and such a resolution would go out to the world, evidencing the fact that Waco was in earnest regarding this proposition that means so much to her future development and prosperity.

As to the appropriation not to exceed $1,200, asked for by the joint committee, Mr. Baine stated that in order to determine the amount of wharfage needed, and therefore, the amount of bonds to be issued to cover, that the city must know the tonnage of the river. In other words, it could not be determined whether Waco needed 100 feet of wharfage or two miles of wharfage until the tonnage was ascertained, and the $1,200 spent in the compiling of data bearing on this subject, for the benefit of the city was most essential.

Mr. Duncan said he was conversant with the improvements of the Cumberland river in Tennessee, and he wished the Waco people knew the benefits derived by Nashville as a result of same, so they could appreciate the benefits to be derived by Waco from Brazos navigation.

Mr. Richards said that he wanted the people to know how he stood on the question.

Mayor Riggins said that it was always a pleasure to co-operate with the business interests of Waco.

The motion to adopt the two proposals contained in the resolution adopted by the navigation board, and read to the commission yesterday morning by C. W. Payne, secretary of the board, was made by Commissioner Richards.

Members of the navigation board present at the meeting of the commission yesterday morning were W. W. Seley, chairman; Harry M. Baine, W. V. Crawford, J. J. Powers, H. C. Risher, R. T. Dennis, W. W. Naman and C. W. Payne, secretary.

Cemetery Matter Up.

Mayor Riggins, Commissioner Richards and Commissioner Cockcroft will confer with representatives of the Oakwood Cemetery association and of Parklawn cemetery in the attempt to settle the controversy that has resulted between the two cemetery associations over the efforts of Parklawn lot owners to have the Oakwood driveway extended so as to give access through Oakwood to Parklawn cemetery. The Oakwood Cemetery association refused to allow the driveway to be opened, and the Parklawn lot owners appealed to the city commission. Judge W. M. Sleeper and James Hays Quarles appeared to represent the Oakwood association, and Judge J. N. Gallagher spoke in favor of opening the driveway, he having been one of a number who signed the petition to the city commission asking that it be opened.

A letter signed by James Hays Quarles as secretary of a recent meeting of lot owners of Oakwood was read to the commission. The letter stated that the meeting of lot owners had voted unanimously in favor of allowing the control of the association to remain in the hands of the Oakwood Cemetery association and opposing repeal of the ordinance creating the association, which had been recommended by the mayor. The letter stated that Judge Sleeper, George Willig, George C. Robinson, Col. W. A. Poage and Judge J. N. Lyle had been selected as a committee to represent the association in any controversy that might arise.

The motion that a committee from the city commission confer with interested parties on both sides of the driveway opening question was made by Commissioner Richards and seconded by Commissioner Cockcroft. Commissioner Dollins suggested that the matter be left to a vote of the lot owners of the Oakwood association. A report on the result of the conference will probably be made at the meeting of the commission next week.

Edgefield Park Taken Over.

Edgefield park, which has been maintained by residents of that district for a number of years, will hereafter be a city park, to be maintained as the other ten parks controlled by the city are maintained. A delegation representing the trustees of the park appeared before the commission yesterday morning to ask that the park be taken over, which was done by a unanimous vote. The trustees and the people of Edgefield were thanked in the name of the city by Mayor Riggins for their effective work for the park during the years it has been kept up by them.

The delegation from the park trustees was composed of S. B. Spencer, D. T. Lankford and Mrs. A. B. Cooper. Mr. Spencer was spokesman for the delegation.

The Edgefield park is the eleventh in the city park system, and is the third to be added within the last three months. The parks now maintained by the city are as follows: Riggins park, Cotton Palace park, Warburton park, Sul Ross park, Cameron park, Harrington park, Baylor park, Mackey park, Waco Spring park, Seley park and Edgefield park. The last three have been added to the list within the last three months.

Anti-Parking Ordinance Passed.

The city ordinance prohibiting parking of automobiles on the west side of North Fifth street between Austin avenue and Sanger alley was passed yesterday morning under suspended rules. After September 12, when this ordinance goes into effect, it will be unlawful to allow automobiles or other vehicles to stand on either side of North Fifth street at the Amicable corner, as an ordinance prohibiting parking on the west side of the street between the same limits already exists. The ordinance prohibiting parking on the east side also was recommended by Commissioner Richards, who contended that it was a more dangerous practice to allow automobiles and other vehicles to stop on the east side of the street near the corner than on the west side.

Unless property owners fronting on Speight and James in line of the proposed opening of South Eighth street through the block between the two streets, will agree to sell land needed at a reasonable figure, to total not more than $2400, condemnation proceedings will be instituted. Mayor Riggins was yesterday authorized to submit this proposition to the property owners, and if unsuccessful to instruct City Attorney John Maxwell to begin condemnation proceedings at once. This action of the city commission was taken upon motion of Commissioner Dollins and followed the visit of a delegation of citizens interested in the opening of the street.

Dr. L. B. Scott, spokesman of the delegation, stated that a committee had raised $797 to help pay for opening the street, and stated that the price asked by the owners for the land needed was $4500. Commissioners Dollins and Dunken were of the opinion that the city should not pay so high a price, and favored condemnation proceedings. Mr. Dollins believed that the city should not be called upon to pay more than half of the cost. Dr. Scott replied that he was convinced that the committee of citizens could not raise more than the $797 already obtained. The final motion which was adopted, providing for a conference between the mayor and the property owners, and for condemnation proceedings if the conference failed to produce the desired results, contained the provision that the amount to be paid by the city would be limited to $1500.

City May Buy Ford.

A Ford automobile may be purchased by the city for the use of the police department in making ordinary calls where a big machine is not needed. Buying a smaller and more economical machine was suggested by Commissioner Richards after Mayor Riggins had recommended that the big car be used only for ambulance and calls requiring a large number of officers, and that the automobile formerly belonging to the street department be used for ordinary calls. Commissioner Richards objected that the former street department auto, being old and in bad repair, would cost more for upkeep than the "hoodlum." The matter of purchasing a Ford for the police department was finally referred to a committee, Commissioners Richards and Dollins being named by Mayor Riggins.

A one-legged barber who had taken possession of one of the cable houses at the west end of the suspension bridge was granted leave to remain in the house free of rent by the city commission yesterday. There are three other cable houses, one empty on this side and two on the other side of the river. The one taken over by the barber contained the automatic switchboard that controls the lights on the bridge, and it was when City Electrician E. F. Copley went to adjust the switch several nights ago that the unheralded tenant was discovered. He had locked up his "place" and Mr. Copley could not get in to adjust the switchboard.

Company G Wants Aid.

W. C. Torrence, captain of company G, the new national guard company mustered in recently, asked that an appropriation of $25 a month be made for the company's support, being the same as is paid to company K. The matter was referred to the mayor and finance commissioner upon motion of Commissioner Dollins.

The ordinance establishing a grade on Barron street was passed with rules suspended.

A resolution authorizing publishing the financial statement was adopted.

Each commissioner present was asked by Finance Commissioner Dunken to prepare an estimate of the expenditures in his department for the next fiscal year which begins October 1.

No decision was reached in the controversy over the mayor's office and stenographer.
